

■ HEALTH CARE REFORM

ACT OR REACT?

SPEAKER

Jon Gabel, Senior Fellow, Health Care Research Department, NORC (National Opinion Research Center)

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

CEOs, CFOs and Controllers. Business Owners. Human Resource & Benefit Professionals .

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Picture this: It is 2012 and cumulatively from 2009-2012, 25 million more Americans have entered the healthcare system!

The enactment of recent legislation is evidence that the U.S. has started the journey of reform. It is certain that this trend will continue along a slow grinding path, AND its' affect on the employer sponsored program will be far reaching in many ways.

Visionaries and business leaders are not waiting for a key moment in legislation; they are embracing and acting upon opportunities-now!

How will your organization align strategy in light of the new social order for health care? HNI will facilitate the discussion on key topics relative to leveraging this historic opportunity for change. If you want to know how reform will strengthen the existing distribution of employer sponsored health plans, don't miss this exciting event.

Jon R. Gabel is nationally renown for his expertise in employer-sponsored health plans, the uninsured, end of life care and specialty hospitals. He has insightful perspective concerning employer considerations and preparation for the changing game.

TOPICS COVERED

- How reform will strengthen the existing distribution and employer sponsored health plans
- How and when will it make sense to take the payroll tax vs continue to offer benefits?
- Who is eligible for the purchasing exchange (probably won't be the >50)
- Minimum plan requirements: OOP, prevention, wellness
- Excise taxes
- Employer cap on benefits: employee taxation on rich plans
- Flexible spending accounts, impact and correlation
- Administration and Compliance. Governmental requirements for eligibility, contributions, design, incentives, and communication will become very complex.
